When you read between
the lines,
think Trespa

A façade's character is more than just shapes and lines-it's in the very materials
themselves.

Variations down
to the joints

Use joints to dominate a facade.

Incorporate nature as a continuous display
of inspiring beauty.

Combined

Even the roughest
character has an
intrinsic beauty.

Enlightened
ideas

Light effects in the joints to give your façade distinctive characteristics that vary with the time of day and night.

Façades with an emotional value Character

Don't limit your design to the possible. Go beyond...with Trespa Meteon. All building materials display a unique character-glossy, soft, rough, natural. Trespa Meteon external panels let you fully express this emotive power. Combine our panels with wood, metal, glass, concrete and brick, add special joint elements and structures, and you can design facades that are bold... soaring... whimsical... inspiring... daring.

We call this process Trespa Perspectives. Trespa Perspectives isn't a product. It's a source of inspiration for architects and designers, a new way of looking at buildings. How you express its character is limited only by your imagination.
